

GREG BRICE

SHORT BIO

Back when Greg Brice played the pubs, clubs and bars of the West Midlands he'd often find some of the toughest audiences you could imagine hanging on his every word within a few bars. His intricate fingerstyle guitar and strident electric slide connected in the raw and immediate way that only proper roots music can.

Following the release of his debut album, it's the quality of his song writing that's capturing people's imagination. Upon it's release in November 2022, Greg received 3 nominations in the 2023 UK Blues Awards, becoming a finalist in the 'Emerging Act of the Year' category.

He has also been nominated in 3 categories this year - Best Acoustic Act, Best Traditional Act and Emerging Act of the Year.
